

I have been through over 35 sales training courses over the past 14 years. Dennis is the first trainer to give me insight to my own behaviors & feelings that can be altered to help me better succeed. Not only did Dennis relate things to sales and the workplace but to everyday life.

During the last 14 years I have had a significant decline in my motivation ~~to~~ and productivity. I believe that for the first time in many years that I have hope for a brighter future.

Sincerely,

Dan Kelly
